2. This Committee (EDIC) is responsible for intelligence support to the Economic Defense Advisory Committee (EDAC) and for coordination of intelligence for the economic defense program. EDIC's formal activities were somewhat reduced during 1956/57 because of the extended review of US policy on multilateral trade controls against Communist China and the European Soviet Bloc. Nevertheless, very substantial intelligence support was rendered by IAC agencies represented on EDIC through direct contributions to EDAC , its subcommittees, and its working groups. The EDIC Chairman, as CIA member of the EDAC Executive Committee,
